MAMAT MANAGEMENT AND MAINTENANCE APPLICATION TECHNOLOGY

You are your greatest asset, and time is your most valuable commodity. If you want more time for family and friends this tool is for you. It saves you both time and money over the long term.

Create order out of chaos. Make report writing a breeze, know your IT status in a moment. The tool that takes doubt out of your decision making. Maintenance tasks automated so you can focus on the real problems and challenges of your IT network. Helps you to manage complexity in an ordered and structured manner.

Identify gaps in your record keeping, have key information available at a moment's notice, know your weak points before the bad guys do and fix them.

As more and more people work from home it is vital that their equipment is tracked and also that they are prepared for a cyber attack. Home networks can leave a hole in a systems protection and these need to be evaluated carefully.

The medical, legal and accounting professions are changing their working architectures with more staff working remotely. These changes may create unintended holes in the system security, needing to be identified and resolved.

The more you use the database tool the more valuable it becomes. Information at your fingertips to help in fast and effective decision making by you or your manager.
